Re: Alex Law for Congress

Dear Sir or Madam:

Please accept this complaint against Alex Law and Alex Law for Congress for violation of the Federal Election Campaign Laws and the Federal Election Commission Campaign Regulations prohibiting illegal campaign contributions.

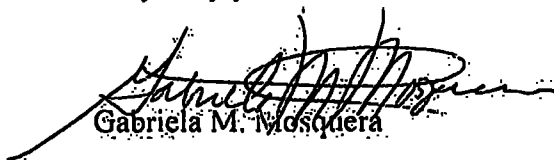

Alex Law is a candidate for Congress running in the First Congressional District in New Jersey and his campaign committee is Alex Law for Congress, 204 Hillcrest Avenue, Apartment A, Collingswood, New Jersey 08108. During the week of April 25, 2016, Mr. Law had three separate pieces of campaign literature delivered by mail in one printed envelope with a printed postage stamp. I believe that the mailing of the campaign literature violated the Federal Election Campaign Laws and the Federal Election Commission Campaign Regulations. On one piece of campaign literature, Mr. Law paid for and mailed campaign literature for two county freeholder candidates running on the same ticket with Mr. Law. I believe that paying for and mailing campaign literature for county candidates violates the federal law and regulations. The letter and campaign literature are enclosed.

The October 15, 2015 FEC Form 3 filed by Alex Law for Congress shows that $3,210.00 was paid to Labels List Inc., 2500 116th Avenue NE #3, Bellevue, Washington 98004. The report does not state the purpose of the payment. According to its website <http://www.l2political.com>, Labels List Inc. is a "provider of high quality enhanced voter data and customized data processing". Mr. Law is identified as a client of Labels List Inc. on its website at <http://www.l2political.com/blog/author/paulwestcott/page/2/>. I believe that Mr. Law used the information purchased from Labels List Inc. to mail thousands of pieces of literature paid for by his campaign committee in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Regulations. In addition,

I believe that Mr. Law paid thousands of dollars to have the campaign literature featuring county freeholder candidates printed and mailed in violation of the Federal Election Campaign Regulations. Unfortunately, I do not know the exact amount of the illegal campaign contributions that Mr. Law has made but believe that the mailing lists, printing and postage costs are in the thousands of dollars and I believe that the mailings are likely to continue. I request that the FEC issue an order to Mr. Law preventing him from making continued illegal campaign contributions on behalf of county freeholder candidates.

Very truly yours,

Gabriela M. Mosquera

Friend.

My name is Alex Law, and I am a Democrat running to represent you in Congress. I am writing you today because you are part of a proud Democratic community that cares deeply about our district. On June 7th, I will be on the Democratic ballot against Donald Norcross.

To me, this election is about values. My campaign is working to bring people together so that we can collectively say, "Enough is enough!" to the special interests that are taking advantage of our democracy. My platform is proudly rooted in progressive values from campaign finance reform to sustainable energy jobs to universal health care. This campaign will only listen to the voice of the people, not big donors. That is why we have spent the last six months doing things the old fashioned way: we have knocked on almost 50,000 doors to date.

My opponent, Mr. Norcross, represents a different set of values. He has funded his campaign through major donations from big corporations as well as Donald Trump. He has voted with Republicans more than any other Democrat from New Jersey. And he has consistently partnered with Chris Christie on major issues like education. On top of all of this, his family has created a corrupt political machine in New Jersey that sends our taxpayer dollars into their pockets, while our property taxes continue to rise.

As a 5th generation South Jersey Democrat, I know if we look to our rich heritage of problem solving and resilience, we will make our community a better place. My knowledge through an education from NYU Stern School of Business and experience as a strategy consultant at IBM has taught me that we can overcome any challenge with the right leadership and teamwork.

Today, I am personally asking you for your vote. Polls predict this election will be so close that every vote will matter. Together, we are going to accomplish something historic.
